A Message from Rev Katie Cross

Weave a Christmas story...

As December marches on and the days get shorter, we are reminded that the year is coming to a close, but not before we have celebrated and spent time together. There are lots of traditions that people have at this time of the year. The Church uses these days of advent, as a time to wait, in anticipation of the celebration to come. Some of you might have an advent calendar to mark the days, or perhaps use a candle, burning a little each day, but however you log the days, these last few moments of the year will pass all too quickly.

You may have traditions that determine who you get together with, the ways you will celebrate and what will be eaten and drunk. We each have our own ways of marking the occasion. For some, this Christmas will be difficult, the first without a loved one, or changed circumstances, Coronavirus has altered many things which may mean that previous traditions seem to lose their appeal.

Advent gives us the opportunity to stop and think, to reflect on our lives. The word Advent simply means 'coming' – it's the season when Christians remember that God came to earth to be born as a child, Jesus. God also promised that Jesus will come again at the end of time to heal all the world's hurts and divisions. Advent remembers this amazing promise, so it can be a time of hope, of getting ready, and expectation.

Whether this is a familiar Christmas or a new encounter, can I suggest that you might think about starting a new tradition?

If you can, take time throughout December to be thankful for all the good things we have. Maybe you would like to say a prayer to God, thanking him each day for the little surprises and gifts that life offers us. And as we approach Christmas itself, why not come and hear the story for yourself once again, be reminded that there is hope for this world, that God does indeed love us. Weave yourself a new story, wrap your presents with thankfulness, sing a few carols, enjoy time with family and friends and come to a Christmas service where the greatest story will be retold, and we are reminded that we are not alone.

Whatever Christmas means to you, I pray that you know you are loved.

With Christmas blessings

Katie

December Delights!

'Just dreaming of a non-Covid Christmas'

It would be so good if it would be completely non-covid, but great to see a bit of familiarity! Praise God!

CHRISTMAS AFTERNOON TEA after such a long absence will be on Tuesday 7th December at Sambourne starting at 2.15 pm so we will have lots of time and still get home in the light. Lifts will be provided if necessary. We ask you to bring masks, and we will have a bit of spaciousness and fresh air, but otherwise it will be as usual – if you remember – poems, few songs, Thought for the Day and teas and delicious bits and pieces, including the obligatory TRIFLE! Everyone is welcome, but do let myself or Gail know you are coming, as we really haven't a clue how many to cater for, and in any case need to be Covid aware.

CHRISTINGLE !!!!!

Yes, it is back!! Halleluia!! But sorry not on Christmas Eve, on SATURDAY 18th December at 5.00 pm at St Peter's Coughton. Our lovely Rector, Revd Katie Cross, and I will be doing it between us, so there may be some surprises, but do come along, Mums and Dads, Grannies and Grandads, Aunts and Uncles and all the friends and neighbours and children you can gather. Be assured Jesus will be there to greet you! But do please bring a torch, because you need to park in the National Trust car park. Masks would be good, but not compulsory. Think we will make the Christingles at Sambourne in the morning, at 10.30 am.

CAROL SERVICE

At Coughton will be on Wednesday 22nd December at 6.00 pm. This is a bit more traditional, but how great to sing those lovely carols and hear the familiar stories that remind us what Christmas is all about. Followed by Mulled wine and mincepies. Again, remember torch and parking.

Christmas day services are at 9.00 am at Haselor and Kinwarton and at 11am at Alcester.

Happy Christmas everybody!!

Nature jottings from Perry mill Lane

We have entered what can be a rather gloomy time of year, but nature can brighten our days.

13th Oct. Although most leaves are still green, I look from an upstairs window and see the first autumn golden glow in neighbours' trees.

23rd Oct. Gail informed me that Middletown has received a surprise, and perhaps unwelcome, visitor over recent days. First there was an unexplained disappearance of a chicken from a garden. Then there were reports of a chicken-stealing

Harris Hawk in Astwood Bank. Finally, it was spotted perched on a pole in Wayne and Jenny's garden. The Harris Hawk is a native of southern United States and parts of Central and South America, but is popular in Falconry in this country.

24th Oct. As we walked along Wike Lane and into the woods we noticed a number of Jays in flight. They become quite obvious at this time of year as they seek out acorns.

We were entranced by the feature on MacGregor's Bower Bird in David Attenborough's "Mating Game" programme. Its mimicry of sounds including human voices was amazing and worth seeking out if you missed it.

27th Oct. Most years we have a Lawyer's Wig fungus (Coprinus comatus) appear in our gravel drive and we spotted one today. The family is known as Ink Caps and a few days later it lived up to its name when we saw it had auto-digested into a black mess.

5th Nov. One pleasure at this time of year is encountering mixed flocks of small birds, mostly of the Tit family, feeding in the trees in Wike Lane. We stopped to watch such a party today. Later, we noticed a Nuthatch spending some time on our garden feeders.

7th Nov. We spotted a Red Admiral feeding on flowers in our garden.

9th Nov. We hear from the residents of Station House, Coughton, that their garden and pool are quite a nature reserve with visitors including a Cormorant, five pairs of Mallard, Herons, Greylag and Canada Geese, a Kingfisher, and a passing Barn Owl. They have also noticed the arrival of Fieldfares, which we have yet to see this autumn.

10th Nov. I had recently noticed that pyracantha shrubs in our garden were covered in berries, and had hopes for a visit from winter thrushes to feed. Today I realised that the berries were fast disappearing and soon saw a Blackbird wolfing them down.

11th Nov. From our back garden a Tawny Owl could be heard calling from the direction of Oak Tree Lane at dusk.

Phil J (12th November)

A Christmas Blessing

May Jesus our Saviour, who was born on Christmas Day,
Bless you at this season,
in a very special way.
May the beauty and the promise of that silent, holy night
Fill your heart with peace and happiness
and make your new year bright.

Conservation over the winter months at the North Warwickshire Portfolio

Ash dieback is a growing concern across the country including at many National Trust properties and we will sadly see the decline and death of many – maybe the majority – of ash trees over the next few years. Where trees die in places where they could affect people, we have an obligation to work on them to ensure the safety of staff, volunteers, visitors and the wider public.

Ash dieback is a disease of ash trees caused by a fungus called Hymenoscyphus fraxineus. It causes leaf loss, crown dieback and bark lesions in affected trees. Once a tree is infected the disease is usually fatal, either directly, or indirectly by weakening the tree to the point where it succumbs more readily to attacks by other pests or pathogens. We don't yet know what the full impact of the disease will be in Britain, but it seems likely to affect 70-95% of our ash trees. We have seen significant decline already in ash on chalk and limestone landscapes like the South Downs and White Peak over the last couple of years, and most places in England and Wales are now affected to some degree.

This winter at Baddesley Clinton, Packwood and Coughton Court around 100 ash trees need to be felled on public safety grounds across the land we care for. At Packwood this work is due to start mid-November and over at Baddesley from the start of January. Some visitor paths may be closed during your visit for public safety as well as for our staff and contractor safety. At Coughton we are hoping to get this work completed over the closed season, but you may see the work being completed from public footpaths across the estate.

Some of the felled trees will be removed and re-purposed as firewood and some out on the estate will be left. The deadwood and log stacks left behind are excellent for fungi, soil condition, invertebrates and birds

COUGHTON & SAMBOURNE 100 CLUB

The November draw for £100 was won by Helen McCarthy, a previous Churchwarden, now living in Evesham. Helen an earlier Jackpot winner this year is obviously having a good 2021.

For this month and as Christmas is coming there will be 3 prizes for December. 1st prize £100, 2nd prize £50 and 3rd prize the specially prepared cockerel for the Christmas lunch table donated by Heart of England Farms. The draw will be made on Sunday 5th at 5.00pm at Sambourne Church Hall.

The Organisers would be delighted to have some new members join the 100 Club. By doing so you would not only be helping to maintain the churches in both Sambourne and Coughton but also have every chance of winning a cash prize each month. You should contact Peter Laband (01527 893879) or John McTavish (01789 764703) to be included in the monthly bit of fun.
